

Buddhist Riots Demand End to Viet Nam Regime

SAIGON, Viet Nam, Nov. 13 (AP)—Buddhist students stormed past riot police today in a demonstration demanding an end to the new civilian government, already sorely beset by a flood disaster and red guerrillas. Troops kept the 1,600 demonstrators from marching as planned on Diem Hong palace, where the new government and the high national council were in session. Truckloads of troops poured into the city in a show of strength by Premier Tran Van Huong's 10-day-old government. The students then confronted themselves with pushing past 40 police and entering the central market. Then leaders told the students to disperse.

Another band of students, armed with sticks and machetes, tried to storm the ministry of public works but was repelled. The students oppose the appointment of some Buddhists to the cabinet under President Ngo Dinh Diem ousted and slain last November. They also are angered because the premier told them to stay out of politics.

Aside from political unrest in the capital, the new government is faced with a monumental task of rebuilding a flood-ravaged province north of Saigon, where more than 5,000 persons have drowned.

Communist guerrillas were reported capitalizing on the floods and moving openly from mountain hideouts into the crippled valley villages.

Refugees from the flood told Vietnamese authorities they had been rescued by Viet Cong men and forced to turn up their identification papers.

Widespread elimination of the papers would help the communists to move with comparative freedom through the disrupted region.

Reliable sources said today the flood victims were being housed in government relief compounds in the coastal resort of Nha Trang and at Qui Nhon yesterday.

Despite the floods, which have drowned more than 5,000 persons and wrecked communications, students in Saigon staged new anti-government demonstrations today.

Shouting demands for the end of Premier Tran Van Huong's last administration, some 100 students gathered in the city center and through police ranks and assembled before the central market.

About 1,000 persons gathered to shout down with dictators, communists and neutralists. The Saigon government can do little about Viet Cong activity in the flooded regions. Communications are disrupted and highways and railroad beds washed away in an area the size of New Jersey.

Firm to Send Payments to Beet Growers

DENVER, Nov. 13 (AP)—Frank A. Kemp, president of the Great Western Sugar company, announced yesterday that the firm would send $3.5 million dollars to beet growers in five states as first payment for their 1964 crop.

Kemp said checks would be mailed Nov. 19 to growers in Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas, Nebraska and Minnesota.

Kemp said the season had not been as favorable as in 1963. Failure of crops to set on the industry's plea for additional marketing privileges and quotas together with failure to settle foreign country quotas, make for increasing uncertainty, he said.

"Drought adversely affected sugarbeet production of the crop and in autumn prevented normal growth," he added. "Also the drought became so hard that harvesting machines could not recover the total tonnage that was grown."

T.F. Farm Bureau Opposes State Sales Tax

Twin Falls county Farm Bureau opposed a sales tax Thursday afternoon, recommending that local financing of the school district be removed from the property tax and be placed on an ability to pay basis as measured by net income.

The tax resolution was one of many passed by the Farm Bureau during its meeting at the Farm Bureau office, 101 Addison avenue.

The tax resolution said that the Bureau recommends that every possible avenue be investigated in accomplishing economy. Various forms of government property tax are no longer an indicator of wealth or income of an individual and as such can no longer be used as a basis for taxation, especially for school purposes.

The Bureau recommended that the financing of the schools be removed from the property tax and be placed on the ability to pay basis as measured by net income. This tax would be collected by the state income tax department.

General Fund In Idaho Is Ahead of '63

BOISE, Nov. 13 (AP)—General fund revenue in October was $371,606 ahead of that a year earlier, continuing the upward trend of the past two years, the monthly tax collector's report showed, yesterday.

It listed general fund tax collections for October of $7,825,340 compared with $7,800,633 for October, 1963. For the first four months of the fiscal year which began July 1 collections totaled $22,730, a gain of 1,669,019 over the preceding year.

Building fund revenue was running slightly behind that of a year earlier, the report showed. For October, collections totaled 100,724, down 4,181 from those a year earlier, and for the four-month period they amounted to $407,534 compared with $405,570 in the corresponding period of 1963.

Income tax revenue, which goes to both the general fund and the building fund, was up $169,035 in October, to $2,270,920, and up $1,507,373 for the year, to $7,400,770.

Corporate tax revenue was down $17,636 for the month, totalling $405,890, and down $23,604 for the four months, to $1,651,266. Beer tax collections for the four-month period amounted to $558,478, a gain of $29,544.

Robbery Tie
Is Suspected

Twin Falls police said Friday they believe the Nov. 4 armed robbery of United Oil company, Inc., 1902 Kimberly road, and the armed robbery of a Boise supermarket Nov. 5, were done by the same two men.

Two men robbers held up Harry Bodonstahl, route 2, early Nov. 4, and escaped with $400 after trussing him up with heavy electrical wire. Two armed robbers also bound the manager of a Boise supermarket to a meat chopping block with a length of wire Nov. 5, and escaped with an undetermined amount of cash.

Bodonstahl's manager, together with John Baldwin, manager of the Safeway store, Boise, managed to kick a telephone from its hook, and that opened a line to a cab company office and a dispatcher called police.

No new leads were reported by Boise officials.

Theft Reported At Library Here

Twin Falls police Friday were investigating the theft of $18 in currency from the Twin Falls public library, sometime between 8 a.m. Thursday and 9 a.m. Friday.

City detectives reported a person or persons entered the library through an open window and escaped with currency and a small amount of cash. A desk and file cabinet were damaged when the intruder tried them open.

Library officials still were checking to see if any merchandise or books were missing.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT, winter's really here, and the expression on the face of Mrs. Norma Herzinger indicates she's anything but thrilled by the prospect as she scrapes off the windshield of her car before leaving work for home Thursday evening. About 12 of an inch of precipitation—in the form of snow—fell in Twin Falls Thursday afternoon, and a trace of snow still was on the ground Friday morning. (Times-News photo)

Leadership Is Not Picked for Session

MOSCOW, Nov. 13 (AP)—A majority of Idaho's legislature finished a three-day tour of north Idaho today with lots of discussion, but apparently little action on leadership for the forthcoming session. Democratic and Republican house members caucused last night, but neither party was able to settle definitely on leadership. It was reported that Rep. Larry Mills of Ada county may be a contender for the house speakership, but many

Smylie Says
GOP Change Is Urgent

BOISE, Nov. 13 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie told newsmen yesterday it was urgent that the national Republican committee leadership be reconstructed.

As far as his chance of being appointed chairman of the committee, Smylie said it was "far too early to speculate."

"It's more important to get the national committee reformed with new images than to speculate on whether or not I'm going to be chairman," Smylie said.

Smylie's candidacy to the post was suggested last week, a day after he called for the removal of Chairman Dean Burch. Smylie's call for Burch's ouster has the support of eastern Republican governors such as Nelson Rockefeller, William Scranton and George Romney.

The governor's desk this morning was loaded with stacks of letters from Smylie's aides. He did not count the mail but the several attacks were considerable in size.

The Bureau went on record in opposition to further expansion of federal power in Idaho and requested a proposal for joint action by the Cattlemen's Association and the Farm Bureau to work for an automatic check-off on beef at the time of sale to be used to advertise the products, with the provision that the producer could ask for a refund of his money within 30 days of the sale.

Temperatures Drop After Area Storm

Winter was settling down in earnest Friday in Magic Valley with below zero temperatures recorded in Fairfield. Dry, cold was the general report after another storm Thursday afternoon which left rain and snow throughout the entire region and disrupted electrical service in Burley.

According to the weather bureau it was minute rains at Fairfield with about six inches of snow on the ground. A total of 60 to 80 inches of water content from the storms is reported by the forest service.

Snowplows were used on Fairfield's main street but the snow has not caused any hardship in traveling so far.

Unofficial temperature at Fairfield was three above and five inches of snow fell there Thursday afternoon. A trace of snow was left on the ground in Twin Falls from Thursday afternoon's general storm, which also covered the ground from Coaling to Rupert.

The night winds during the afternoon disrupted electric service in Burley, Heyburn and Paul for about one-half hour between 4 and 5:30 p.m. Thursday.

Martin Anderson, Burley, Donnyville power dispatcher, explained service was interrupted when the automatic protective equipment went into operation because of trouble at the BPA's Heyburn substation.

Power at the rural electric company also was disrupted but power was rerouted from Minidoka dam and lights were back on by 6:27 p.m. in Burley, Marsburg and in the Paul-Heyburn areas a minutes later.

BPA crews were testing equipment at the Heyburn substation Friday morning and had not yet located any damage to equipment.

Anderson explained that when weather conditions cause trouble with the power lines, the automatic equipment goes into operation to stop the power.

Drought Victims Look Toward West For Some Relief

Residents of the dry East and Midwest, gripped in a deepening drought, and taking emergency water conservation measures, look today to the West for relief. There were no moisture problems west of the Rockies where storms have dumped heavy rain and snow for more than a week. The weather bureau said a storm center over Wyoming was intensifying, and the eastward moving disturbance was ready to spread out on the Plains.

A shift of rainy, snowy weather to the eastern drought region from the Rocky mountains is possible next week, the weather bureau said.

Meanwhile, there was a spread of cooler air which generated some moisture in the upper Great Lakes region and along the Appalachian highlands.

This precipitation, though, was little compared with the storm which covered most of the Great Basin with one to five inches of new snow.

Very dry conditions continued from the central Mississippi Valley and some Plains sections to the Atlantic Coast.

Some communities began drawing water from recreational lakes. Farmers were using tank trucks to haul water to their fields.

Some rain eased the dry spell slightly in the Midwest, but one farmer said, "It (the rain) just didn't begin to soak in."

A hard rain and snow storm in Northern California began tapering off last night. Most of the West Coast was soaked. Other parts of the Northwest lay under snow.

Some New Jersey conservation department has directed water suppliers to report to state agencies every other day on the water supply so that state can take emergency action when necessary. Officials said there is enough water on hand for 36 days.

Residents in the North Jersey community of Franklin Lakes are borrowing water for bathing. The town's water supply was cut off Nov. 5. Light showers yesterday in New England did little to alleviate the drought, which passed its peak last week.

The drought, which passed its peak last week, is estimated by the state's dairy industry and produce farmers alone would suffer six million dollars damages.

Minor Savings Possible if Excise Taxes Are Repealed

BY ROBIN THIBERTS
If President Johnson's proposal to repeal federal excise taxes on some items is approved by congress, consumers in Magic Valley might get to pocket some extra change every year.

Actually, the savings would be rather small except when more expensive items such as jewelry and furs are purchased. But on the average every family would come out at the end of the year with some evidence of having had more money to spend.

The President has proposed to take the excise tax off cosmetics, jewelry, furs, luggage and handbags. Savings would be considerably more if the taxes could be dropped off automobiles, liquor, tobacco and gasoline. But these items aren't on the list.

To clear the savings picture a little more, consider the man who is about to get married. He buys an engagement ring for $150; else taxes, $15. The wedding ring costs $350; excise taxes, $35. Total excise taxes, $50. If he didn't have to pay the tax, the extra money would pay the preacher and buy the license.

With colder weather coming on, families use more hand lotion and it may cost from 50c to $1.00 a bottle. Tax on 60 cents; six cents on 95 cents, 9.5 cents; or one thin dime. If there are $500,000,000 in savings, that's $500,000,000. See EXCISE, Page 2, Column 2.

Six Sentenced In Burley for Lamb Torture

BURLEY, Nov. 13 (AP)—Four Burley juveniles and two adults were sentenced in Cassia county probate court Thursday afternoon on charges of malicious torture of an animal.

The six were charged last week with torturing a sheep from the Keith-Dowell farm, north of Burley on Halloween night, pouring gasoline on the animal and setting fire to it in a Burley grocery store parking lot, causing it to burn to death.

The six, of which five are students at Burley high school, received sentences ranging from 180 days to 12 months in the county jail to work assignments on week-ends with city and county officials.

The four juveniles, who appeared in court with their parents, were Stanley J. Church, 16; Gary R. Church, 17; sons of Mrs. Ione Church, route 1, Burley; Terry Jones, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross V. Jones, 100 east 400 south; Burley; and Jerry L. Anderson, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Anderson, route 1, Burley.

Impact of Strike On Coast Spreads

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 13 (AP)—The impact of the one-day-old strike in the West Coast pulp and paper industry spread today as both sides prepared to carry on negotiations in Washington Monday. Rayonier, Inc., announced it would close its logging operations near Hoquiam, Wash., tonight to prevent a pileup of logs during the strike. Most other companies involved in the strike were expected to take the same step. A few of the 49 mills belonging to the 18 members of the Pacific Coast Association of Pulp and Paper Manufacturers continued to operate at reduced speed today. Many of the mills have supervisory personnel.

S. W. Grimes, managing director of the employer group, said "as of right now" employers will try to keep as many plants open as possible. "Federal law guarantees workers the right to come to work without job jeopardy," Grimes said in a telegram to all mills yesterday. "If there is any doubt about this authority to decide the national labor relations board in Portland."

He said the telegram was sent to counteract rumors that workers were losing their jobs by crossing picket lines.

The new Association of Western Pulp and Paper Workers (AWPPW) called the strike of 21,000 workers at 7 a.m. yesterday, after the union reached an agreement on a contract.

The union ousted the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers (IBPPM) and the United Paperworkers as the bargaining agent in the mills in September and is involved in its first contract negotiations.

"The union has the right now to run its own business," Grimes said. The employers have been insisting on a management rights clause, which would give them the authority to decide all issues not specifically mentioned in the contract.

"The union also demands that management force the 8,000 workers who voted against the new union for the representation election to join it or lose their jobs," Grimes continued. He said the employers have offered to require that all new employees join the AWPPW and that all current members maintain their membership as a condition of employment, but the union has rejected that plan.

Berlin Wall Closed Until Christmas

BERLIN, Nov. 13 (AP)—The communist wall was closed at midnight, not to reopen again until the Christmas season.

About 600,000 persons passed through the anti-refugee barrier for one-day visits to their relatives in the East during the last two weeks.

A pass agreement negotiated this fall allows West Berliners five visits a year, including two Christmas, at one each at Easter, Pentecost and in November.

Family reunions ended in tearful farewells last night. But this time there was some solace in the knowledge that the separation need not be of indefinite duration.

Area Woman Hurt in T. F. Car Accident

A 26-year-old Jerome woman was taken to Magic Valley Memorial hospital after a car driven by her husband struck her on the base of a light pole at 8:40 p.m. Tuesday in Lynwood parking lot.

Damage was estimated at $500 to the vehicle. No citation was issued.

Otto told the investigating officer that it was raining hard and he did not see the light base.

Local police investigated four other accidents in the city Tuesday but no other injuries were reported.

Lloyd H. Bailey, 67, Gooding, was driving a 1964 Buick at 7:25 p.m. from the parking lot at Kay's supper club, on Addison avenue west, when the vehicle was struck in the left side by a 1963 Ford driven on Addison avenue by Thomas G. Flanagan, 24, 233 Third avenue north.

Damage was estimated at $175 to the Ford and $150 to the Buick. No citation was issued.

Mrs. Dorothy J. Bellers, 19, 1711 Kimberly road, attempted to drive a 1960 Chevrolet from Fifth street west across Second avenue west when the vehicle was struck by a 1960 Pontiac driven by Harry Griffith, 78, route 3.

According to the investigating officer, Griffith attempted to turn his vehicle onto Fifth street west just as Mrs. Bellers attempted to cross the intersection.

Damage was estimated at $25 to the Chevrolet and $100 to the Pontiac.

Joy L. Jullen, 35, route 1, refused to stop at a stop sign at 8:45 a.m. in the parking lot in the rear of the Idaho barber shop when the vehicle struck the rear bumper of a 1958 Chevrolet pickup truck owned by Ivan O. Christian, 430 Walnut, and parked in the lot.

Damage was estimated at $45 to the new Chevrolet. No citation was issued.

Mrs. Allison Day, 48, route 1, Kimberly, was cited for failure to yield the right of way after a two-car accident at 1:25 p.m. on Third street east.

Mrs. Day was cited after she attempted to turn a 1958 Buick from an alley onto Third street east and the Buick struck a 1959 Mercury driven on Third by Mrs. Janice L. Sturgeon, 43, 500 Third avenue.

Damage was estimated at $200 to the Mercury and $40 to the Buick.

Want Wart on Your Nose? Stick Head Under Covers

This is a good day to stay home in bed, but don't put your head under the covers, it's bad luck. There's an old superstition which holds that a person who hides his head under the blankets when he should be out earning his bread will develop a wart on his nose.

But why stay at home in the first place? It's Friday the 13th!

Today is the day when black cats, ladders, broken mirrors and upended horseshoes are bad luck.

If you're prone to falling down stairs, slipping on banana peels, stepping on toes or tripping yourself with a parking knife, today is the day to stay in bed. But don't forget about that wart.

There are as many superstitions about Friday the 13th as there are people who consider the day bad luck.

Some hotels reveal the fact that their builders were superstitious. They have no 13th floor. Look at the elevator buttons: 10, 11, 12, 14. Some have no room numbered 13. In such hotels, if there are stairways, you'll not find a flight with 13 steps.

Superstition says that to walk under a ladder on Friday the 13th is to invite certain disaster. The same holds true with allowing a black cat to cross your path on that date.

And while it may mean seven years of bad luck to break a mirror, saying you may as well resign yourself to disaster, according to superstition, if you smash one on Friday the 13th.

How many residences did you ever see with 13 rooms? Or 13 windows? Not many.

Once, however, so the story goes, a gentleman from the bayou country decided to defy local superstition. He built a house that had 13 rooms, 13 windows and 13 doors. Now, no house needs 13 doors, so he had two separate doors at each entrance.

Mrs. Anderson was elected vice president, and John Snow, representing the Potato Processors of Idaho, as their executive secretary, was elected to a two-year term on the board of directors.

Snow will act as co-host at the spring meeting. Karl Cayford, manager of the Ponderosa chamber, is the new president.

Drama Well Received by Capacity Crowd at Jerome

By MRS. EUGENE HITT, JEROME, Nov. 13—Hundreds from George Bernard Shaw's classic play "Saint Joan" was enthusiastically received by a capacity crowd at the First Christian church Monday evening.

America's nationally known Bishop's company presented the religious drama starring Judi Quick. Sharing honors for the evening were Clifford Scott and Paul Carson. Miss Quick played the part of Joan and Scott and Carson played several different parts throughout the production.

The drama was enacted in the church sanctuary with only lighting and one chair used for the entire play. The play was done so skillfully the audience was enthralled throughout the evening.

The Rev. Harold Robbins gave the invocation and benediction. The Rev. Ralph Rothwell presented the introduction to the play.

The Rev. and Mrs. George Barnhart, the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Rothwell, the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Robbins, and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Freeman, committee members who have worked to bring this inspiring religious drama to Jerome, had dinner with members of the church Monday evening.

Members of the church also were honored at a reception at the church parsonage Sunday evening hosted by the Methodists.

They were guests at the homes of Dr. and Mrs. L. V. Ruobel, Mrs. William Peters and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fleming during their stay in Jerome.

The Bishop's company appeared under the sponsorship of the Jerome Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian churches.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By BOB REESE

The tall, dignified man with the umbrella was the Prime Minister of England, Neville Chamberlain. When he stepped off the plane in his native land after that historic meeting, he was smiling. He felt that he had just insured peace for the world.

He had just returned from Munich, where with the Premier of France, Daladier, and Premier Mussolini of Italy, Chamberlain had entered into a four-power peace pact with Nazi Fuehrer Adolf Hitler. The pact took strife torn Britain and gave it to Germany. For a price, peace had been bought for Europe.

The pact was signed just 24 hours before the October 1st deadline Hitler had given. His troops stood prepared to march into Czechoslovakia. Now they would not march, and war had been averted—or so that honest, peaceful man thought as he stepped off his plane in England. For Chamberlain couldn't know that the "Munich Pact" was but a temporary delay in the war that was soon to come.

Remember the year? That was a time when a car buyer knew just what was in his pocket when he signed to buy a new car. After all, it's just common sense to know what you're signing.

The year was 1936. You won't get any "double talk" when you see us about buying a new Dodge, Chrysler or Imperial. Engineers have feelings, too.

For years now, Lincoln Continental's Styling Studios have been sprouting a crop of Cups, Plaques, Ribbons and other official kudos, the likes of which the automotive world has never seen. And no one would deny the stylists these just desserts. But in the meantime, the gentlemen who wear all these rules instead of handkerchiefs in their breastpockets have gone about their heralded business of putting more value into the automobile. Lincoln's legendary luxury is their handwork. They figured how to completely automate the car without making you a robot. (The Lincoln Continental is still a driver's car.) They perfected a ride that floats you to your destination without rocking you to sleep as you provide a performance capability that puts lesser nameplates in their place—a respectful distance behind. This year they have equipped the automobile with front wheel disc brakes and an endless list of other new or refined mechanical improvements. But no matter how the significant and ingenious their contributions, it is the face of Lincoln Continental's engineers to labor in the shadow of the classic beauty that surrounds their handiwork. Their reward must be, therefore, the look on your face when you position yourself behind the wheel. As the miles drop away behind you, you will know they have done their work well.

Mr. and Mrs. Gurnett Strickland are having a farm sale and according to Wendell, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Arriaga, Tuttle, have bought the farm being vacated by the Stricklands which belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lenker and plan to have there on Dec. 1. Arriaga has made some improvements on the buildings at the farm they purchased.

A group of chinchilla raisers in Oregon have bought bales of bean chaff from Raymond Wright, Tuttle, and some bean raisers at Gooding. The chinchillas eat the stems of the bean plant for bulk in their diet.

Earl and Walter Pearson are building a 24 by 24-foot utility shed on their farm northeast of Fairfield.

A bureau of land management and forest service crew directed the burning of brush and slashings last week on the Allen Bausch range land near Powell gulch northeast of Fairfield. The area had been logged over for the local mill.

W. W. Knox, King Hill, bought five Hereford bulls last week at the bull sale held at the Filer fairgrounds.

Lloyd Davis, Filer, bought a 2-year-old gelding at the horse sale in Filer last Saturday.

The Verd Mercedes-Correy ranchers are having some remodeling done on their home.

NRA Anticipates Increased Attendance at Convention

PALEO SPRINGS, Nov. 13—Advances in the program for attending the 1964 convention of the National Reclamation Association, which will be held here Sunday through Friday will break all records for attendance. Well over 1,000 delegates are expected to attend from all of the 17 Western states.

Special panels will discuss the reclamation program. He will present his program for strengthening the organization to help meet those problems.

One of the highlights of the convention will be the Congressional Committee luncheon which is scheduled for Thursday noon.

An entire day has been set aside for a tour by the delegates in special buses of the famous Coachella Valley, where a fabulously rich and productive agricultural development has been made possible by a Reclamation project. The tour will end with a special style deep-pit barbecue on the shores of the Salton sea, 232 feet below sea level.

Hugh A. Ehammer, NRA president who is rounding out his first one-year term in office, believes that the convention also will be one of the most important in NRA's history because of critical problems that confront the reclamation program.

John Faulkner, Gooding, will chair the lamb group; Phil Soulen, Welser, wood group; R. J. Blum, Murter, graying group; Walter E. Tuttle, New Plymouth, predators and disease group, and R. K. Blidoway, St. Anthony, resolutions and transportation group.

Other events await woolgrowers and their wives at the "Openers" late Sunday afternoon. Features throughout the convention will also add to the pleasure of all.

Annual banquet and dance Monday evening.

Perry A. Nelson, well-known reeler and State Chamber of Commerce president, will serve as toastmaster.

Steele also stated that the Idaho Range Bull Sale will be the largest Range Bull Sale in Western Idaho and that the Idaho Cattlemen's association has long been noted for its outstanding offering of top quality bulls of excellent type, breeding character, dependability to produce top calves.

Estimate Is Off On Cotton Crop

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—The agriculture department is experiencing some difficulty in estimating the size of the cotton surplus, or carryover, as of next Aug. 1, start of the 1965-66 cotton marketing year.

The estimate of the size of this year's crop keeps going up. This upsets the educated guesses on the size of next year's surplus.

Mock Court Provides Shoshone Class Experience in Farm Law Procedure

SHOBIHON, Nov. 13—For the past four weeks some 20 members of the Shoshone high school vocational agriculture department have been involved in mock courtroom trials arguing farm law.

The special instruction in farm law has been added to the regular vocational agriculture course of study. Ed Giffes, vocational agriculture instructor, added the course to give students a workable background in farm law and to familiarize the students with legal procedure.

Mock trials involving ordinary subjects as warranty and claim deeds, property line disputes, stray animal responsibility and the legal relationship between farmer and hired help were held. The services of Shoshone attorney Jack Murphy and Howard Adkins were utilized and they explained many legal procedures to students.

The 27 members of the class were divided into two or three boys represented the plaintiff and the defendant in each case. Counselors were allowed five days to prepare cases and select witnesses. Information relative to the cases was taken from farm law books available in the vocational agriculture department and advice from the two attorneys.

Judges and trial clerks were picked from the vocational agriculture classes, but witnesses were not.

Cornynum Blight Seen In T. F. County Orchards

Cornynum blight has been observed in several peach orchards this fall according to Twin Falls county agent Donald Voutz. Much control can be gained by a fall spray program, and by cutting out the cankered stems and destroying them.

Cornynum blight fungus is often well established in an orchard before the grower discovers it. When the fungus is already deep within the tissues of the tree, killing it with surface sprays is difficult. That is why annual control measures are necessary to keep the orchard free of serious infestation. Much can be gained by judicious pruning along with timely spray applications. When a grower has not had good results with sprays, it is often found that he has not applied them annually or has not pruned out the diseased wood.

Bordeaux mixture and Phygon-XL have given the most consistent control. Applications should be made before fall rains start, after most of the leaves have fallen. Directions for control of Cornynum blight are outlined in a bulletin available to the public at the county agent's office, and spraying should be completed during the next 3 or 4 weeks.

Cornynum blight also effects the fruit by developing spots or a freckled effect. Damage to the maturing fruit can be so slight that the effect is mostly on the surface, or it can be so severe that market value is lost. Also there is some blossom loss resulting in a reduced crop.

Cornynum blight can effect all stone fruits, but is most serious on peaches and apricots.

Minidoka 4-H Team Rates In Judging at Exposition

RUPERT, Nov. 13—Final results of the Minidoka county 4-H judging teams have been received from the Pacific International Livestock exposition, according to Vance Smith, county extension agent.

Seven boys and girls from Minidoka county judged dairy animals and was also fourth high at Pacific International in judging all breeds of dairy cattle. The meat animals judging team included Lois Abo, Elane Kramer and Louise Phillips. The dairy judging team was Alan Woody, Randy Butler and Norma Tucker.

Harry Lord was alternate to either team and since all team members were able to judge, Lord judged horses as an individual. He judged four classes of horses and had a grade of 90 per cent on his judging, which was excellent, Smith said. He received a fourth premium ribbon. The meat animal judging team judged with 14 boys and girls from the Pacific Northwest. On six classes and two sets of reasons, Lois Abo received a score of 83 per cent, Elaine Kramer, 64 per cent, and Louise Phillips, 51 per cent. They received a white ribbon on team basis.

The dairy judging team judged eight classes and Woody scored 75 per cent, Butler, 64 per cent and Norma Tucker seventh against 70 other contestants. Of the top 10 placed, the Minidoka county team took three and they also ranked on a team basis sixth in Jersey judging.

Miss Tucker won the high score individual in judging dairy animals and was also fourth high at Pacific International in judging all breeds of dairy cattle. She received the highest score in judging Holsteins of all 4-H boys and girls judging Holsteins at the Pacific International and will receive a medal for this achievement.

Mrs. Warren King, Mrs. Ralph Jurgensmeyer and Smith accompanied the teams to Portland.

World Pork Production Decreases

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—The foreign agricultural service estimates pork production in 44 countries in 1964 will be around five per cent less than the 44 billion pounds produced a year earlier.

FAS said pork production in 1965 is likely to rise three to five per cent above 1964 but is not likely to reach the 1963 level.

FAS said decreased output in the USSR, the United States, Belgium, France, and a few other countries in 1964 was partially offset by increased output in most countries of Western Europe, South America, Canada, Japan, the Philippines, and New Zealand.

FAS said a general increase in hog slaughter is expected in 1965 with the United States main producing country expected to show a decline.

Production Of Soybeans Increases

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—The foreign agricultural service estimates world production of soybeans in 1964 will rise to a record 1.1 billion bushels.

This is two per cent above the previous record in 1963 and 20 per cent above the 1960-62 average.

FAS said the net gain of 80 million bushels from last year is attributed to the expected increase in Red China, U. S. production is down three million bushels from last year. Production in Brazil and Japan also is down, from a year earlier.

The United States accounts for about two-thirds of the world soybean production. Red China accounts for almost one-third.

Value of Farm Assets Reaches Record Amount According to Balance Sheet

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—The value of all farm assets in the United States reached a record 223.3 billion dollars on Jan. 1, an increase of 1.5 billion dollars from a year earlier, the agriculture department reported in its annual "Balance Sheet of Agriculture."

In addition to the 3.4 per cent hike in value of farm assets, the value of owner's equities, cash receipts from farm marketing, and farm debts also went up.

Utah Potato Harvest Is Nearly Over

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 13 (AP)—The U. S. agriculture department said Utah's potato harvest is about 75 per cent complete in all areas while early harvest is nearing completion in many areas.

In the weekly joint weather, crop and livestock report the agencies said turkey condition was fairly good at the time with current markets starting to show an increase as Thanksgiving day approaches.

The report said livestock condition remained fair to good with fall and winter ranges fairly dry as of the end of October.

Wheat areas were in serious need of moisture to improve the winter wheat condition prior to winter. The report said germination has been very slow and growth spotty.

World Wood Industry To Expand

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—The agriculture department predicts the world wood industry will expand in 1965, but not as rapidly as in the past four years.

The department said increases in production are in sight for Australia, New Zealand, Argentina, and Uruguay. These it predicted, will more than offset declines in North America and the USSR.

The net increase is expected to be about 30 million pounds.

The department said short wood production is expected to continue to drop in the United States because of a continued decline in the alarm inventory.

World wood production in 1964 including the 1964-65 season in the Southern Hemisphere is expected to be 5,825,000,000 pounds.

4-H District Conference Is Held at Jerome Armory

JEROME, Nov. 12.—An estimated 70 4-H leaders attended a two-day 4-H district leadership training conference held Monday and Tuesday at the National guard armory here.

Theme of the conference was "Able Hands Make Able Citizens."

In addition to the leaders there were representatives from every county in Magic Valley with county agents and home demonstration agents participating in the conference.

Also attending was Dan Warren, state 4-H club leader; Dorothy Hole and Maurice Johnson, assistant state 4-H club leaders, all from the University of Idaho.

Eleanor Wilson, a member of the national 4-H staff headquarters in Washington, attended the conference and was one of the main speakers.

Subjects covered during the two day event included "What makes a good 4-H project" by Olan Ginn, Twin Falls; "Developing Junior Leaders" by M. E. Johnson, Moscow; "Effective Demonstrations" by Dorothy Hole, Moscow; "Rural life in the 4-H Fair" by Wilbur Priest, Jerome, to name a few of the subjects covered.

Priest was chairman of the conference and Wanda Mix, Jerome home agent, was responsible for the food. Cassia county extension staff was responsible for hospitality.

Special speakers included the Rev. Ralph Pothergill, Jerome Methodist minister, and Vernon Ravenscroft, Gooding county place representative.

Panel groups and discussions concluded each session.

Freeman Says Government to Continue to Purchase Beef

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman told a news conference that the government's beef purchasing program would continue "as long as necessary."

The program began March 1 in an effort to bolster the cattle market and to avert pending legislation that would impose strict import quotas on beef and veal.

Since the program began, the government has spent 15 million for 318,250 pounds of beef and veal. Most of it has been choice, although lately some of the purchases have been of "cow beef."

The meat is being made available to schools, institutions, and needy families.

Freeman said the purchase program is continuing in view of the seasonal meat shortage being marketed by producers. Obviously, too much beef thrown on a free market would mean lower prices on the hoof. The government purchases will take the meat out of free market competition.

Freeman said it now appears that cattle on Jan. 1, 1965, probably will be no greater than they were a year earlier. He said this would create a more favorable supply-demand ratio in the market.

Early Planting Can Boost Idaho Potato Crop Yield

Early planting is a good bet for a large potato crop.

That's the conclusion of a study recently completed by Richard Ohma, University of Idaho extension potato specialist.

Obtained data from 200 eastern Idaho growers for the three-year period 1961 to 1963.

On the average, fields planted in early May had better yields than those planted later, even allowing for frost damage.

"Many factors are to be considered for low yields in some areas in 1964," Ohma said. "Poor stands and early frost did not help the situation, but one of the biggest contributing factors must have been the delayed planting."

The three-year average yield range was found by the survey to be between 180 and 264 hundredweight per acre. When charted on a graph, the figures showed that growers planting between May 11 and May 25 had average yields whose the planting before May 11 had yields above average. Yields planted after May 25 were below average.

Year in and year out, the study indicated that delayed planting produces smaller crops, notwithstanding seasonal losses caused by bad weather such as a frost early in June that struck much of eastern Idaho in 1962. These "unusual" conditions, Ohma said, are generally offset by consistent early planting.

Crop Is Steady

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—The foreign agricultural service estimates 1964 production of barley and oats will be the same as in 1963—149 million tons. But the 1964 barley crop will be four million tons larger than in 1963 while the 1964 oats crop will be four million tons smaller.

The total output is expected to be 431 million bushels.

The oats output is expected to be 2.97 billion bushels, the smallest total of the past 50 years.

City Lures Rural Youths, Grange Officials Agree

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 13 (AP)—It's pretty hard to keep youngsters away from the farm when they can earn a steady income working fewer hours in the city, say officials of the National Grange.

The high cost of starting and maintaining a farm also is contributing to the exodus, said Grange officials interviewed during the 98th annual meeting of the Grange, which claims 800,000 members in 40 states.

Jerome, D. Newcomb, Washington, NATIONAL GRANGE MASTER, said little could be done to keep young people down on the farm until farming becomes more lucrative.

"We're trying the best we know how," Newcomb said, citing several recent federal legislative measures.

Frank A. Niffenegger, Maryland, III, chairman of the National Grange Lawton and Sons committee, agreed with Newcomb.

"A youngster will have to wait a long time to make $50 a week on a farm, but not if he works in town as a stenographer or a bookkeeper," Niffenegger said.

"It costs too much to get into the business and the income is not enough to warrant it. There's also more comfort elsewhere and the boys don't have to invest so much. Even when a youngster gets a farm from his folks, more times than not he has to pay for it."

Lionel Burgess, Elliptical City, Md., national treasurer, said there was a time when a youngster could buy a team of horses, a plow and harrow and go into farming, even if he had to rent the land.

"At the end of the year, if you worked hard, you made a good pay," he said. "Now the average investment behind such a team is $45,000 per person and that's not counting the cost of the land."

"And another thing you have to remember: you have to work longer than eight hours a day, 40 hours a week to stay on the farm. The boys can find it easier in the city and make more money."

Production of too cream was at the same level as a year earlier, the second consecutive year.

Milk production in the United States during September totaled 2,624 million pounds, or about one per cent more than the September, 1963, output and two per cent above the 1958-59 average for the month.

Relative to population, September production was equal to 17 pounds per person daily compared with 1.65 pounds a year earlier.

Production per cow averaged 23 pounds—up three per cent from September last year and 12 per cent above average for this month.

Country butter production in the United States in September, totaled at 86,445,000 pounds, or one per cent more than in September, 1963, but was two per cent less than the 1958-59 average for the month.

The decline from August to September this year was 10 per cent, compared with 10 per cent in 1963 and 14 per cent in the 1958-59 period.

September production of American cheese in the United States at 86,715,000 pounds, was a high of record for the month.

It was three per cent more than in September, 1963, and 15 per cent larger than the 1958-59 average for the month. Wisconsin's output was five per cent greater than a year earlier.

Condition of Rangeland Depreciates

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The report of the board said range feed conditions worsened during October as only light scattered rains were received throughout the Western range area.

The board said moisture shortage reduced the palatability of range feed in the West.

Range in some Western sections continued to supply adequate forage to maintain livestock but in other sections range supplies were exhausted.

Supplemental feeding became more widespread in areas where range feed supplies were short.

The board said fall cattle harvestings were lagging slightly behind a year earlier. Sheep marketing and contracting were running somewhat ahead of a year ago.

Yield on Special Plots Of Spuds Appears Good

Preliminary figures indicate that potatoes treated with Telone can reduce verticillium wilt and increase yield according to results on special test plots established on the E. J. Morgan farm south of Hightown.

The plots were planted last spring in cooperation with Morgan, the Twin Falls county agent's office, the University of Idaho extension staff and Dow Chemical company, maker of the chemical Telone.

The plots were harvested earlier this fall, and last week a crew made up of Aberdeen experiment station personnel, University of Idaho extension personnel and Twin Falls County per acre. Test checks were maintained on the plots and were not treated with Telone.

A test plot consisted of six rows of potatoes 80 feet long and only the center 60 feet were harvested in the center rows.

After computing normal yield, it appears that application of 20 and 35 gallons of Telone had a marked effect in yield and quality.

Similar tests were established at Shelly and Elgin ranch and the findings seem to hold up in all three cases.

"Final results will be determined at a later date when all data has been computed," said Richard Olms, university potato specialist, "but it looks promising."

A special sorting table was brought from Aberdeen to grade the potatoes.

American Wheat Forecast Is Lowest Since 1958, Says Federal Agency

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The agriculture department forecast the wheat carryover at July 1 of 1964 at 1,400 million bushels.

This is about 160,000 bushels above the surplus recorded on July 1, 1964.

The carryover this year—$29.84 million bushels—was the lowest since 1958. It represented the third consecutive reduction in marketing year-end stocks since the peak carryover of 1.41 billion bushels reached July 1, 1961.

The department said high levels of exports and special acreage diversion programs in recent years have been responsible for the decline in the huge amount of wheat carried from a marketing year into the next.

The department regarded the projected increase in carryover at July 1 as insignificant, which could be eliminated with a single, unanticipated export sale.

ASCS Chairman Announces Sugar Act Requirements

The national acreage allocation for the 1965 crop of sugarbeets has been set at 1,375,000 acres, the department of agriculture announced Oct. 12. This action followed recommendations by virtually all of the sugarbeet grower associations and processor groups for such action.

The department said it was bringing about an orderly situation in the sugar market.

Since announcement of the 1965-crop national allocation, raw sugar prices have increased about 23 per cent. Based on the present sugar beet marketing quota, this price rise means an income increase nationally of about eight million dollars.

Producers get the major share of any sugar price increase under the type of producer - processor contract now in effect.

One of the conditions necessary to qualify for sugar acreage payments will be to market 1965-crop sugarbeets within individual farm production plans.

Carl Boyd, chairman, Twin Falls county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee, said today.

According to the chairman, sugarbeet acreage has not been realized since the 1960 crop. During this period, plantings have increased from about 772,000 acres for the 1960 crop to about 1,400,000 acres for the 1964 crop.

The chairman pointed out that the allocation program is designed to protect the interests of present sugarbeet growers. The acreage allocation of 1,375,000 acres recommended by sugarbeet groups for the 1965 crop provides for an acreage more than 40 per cent higher than that of 1960 and will provide an equitable share in the sugar market.

Furthermore, the allocation program will tend to avoid the depressing effect on sugar prices, which large supplies of unmarketable sugar would have.

At an informal hearing in San Francisco, Oct. 27, sugarbeet grower representatives and others had an opportunity to present views and recommendations on the methods to be followed in allocating the 1965 national sugarbeet acreage to areas and individual producers.

Globe Offers Anthelmintic For Worms

PORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 13.—An "anthelmintic" for the elimination of stomach worms, nodular worms, and hook worms from sheep, goats and cattle, and nodular worms from swine is being marketed by Globe Laboratories, under the trade name of Globex Phen-Ovine.

The active ingredient is 37.82 per cent phenothiazine which is micronized for enhanced efficacy.

The use of the anthelmintic can be effected without fasting animals before or after drenching.

Also, it is not necessary to give the animal a purgative.

Termed one of the most effective drugs for the elimination of internal parasites, Globex Phen-Ovine is a straight phenothiazine drench. Cattle receive, according to label instructions, one ounce for 100 pounds of body weight up to a maximum of five ounces; sheep and goats weighing over 50 pounds, two ounces; lambs and kids under 50 pounds of body weight, one ounce. Swine receive varying dosages on label instructions according to body weight.

Methods of application are clearly outlined on the product label.

Stomach and hook worms are blood suckers, and although very small, they may be present in such abundant numbers that there is a serious loss of blood, and gross irritation caused by repeated puncturing of the mucous membrane lining the digestive tract of animals.

Nodular worms occur in the large intestine and in the ovum.

Compensation Rates Are High

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Workman's compensation rates in the dairy industry are among the highest for all manufacturing groups because of accident frequency and hazards in dairy plants, a recent report pointed out.

Cost Wisconsin dairy manufacturing plants an estimated $92 per employee in 1963. Out of a total employment of 18,400 dairy workers, approximately 1.7 million dollars were paid out in injury compensation.

Safety programs were seen as major factors in curtailing the high injury rate, since "it's not a machine's fault that people are injured. It's the way employees use the machine."

An official of one plant reported that accident reduction as a result of its safety program cut workman's compensation premium costs by 50 per cent.

25 YEARS CHALKED UP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Four federal milk orders chalked up 25 years of continuous operation in 1964. Two of them still go by their original designations as the Chicago and New Orleans orders.

In bulk, but were bagged separately on each plot. After the plots were graded, the various grades were weighed and recorded.

A special sorting table was brought from Aberdeen to grade the potatoes.

Production of Top Richfield Herd Noted

RICHFIELD, Nov. 13.—The November DHIA report lists Richfield's top herd in the association to Harold Pridmore.

His cows produced 1,567 pounds of milk and 36.3 pounds of butterfat. Roger Freeman was second with a herd record of 899 pounds of milk and 32.7 pounds of butterfat.

Cows averaging over 80 pounds of butterfat for the month were: Boots owned by Grant Stevens, 62.2; No. 44, owned by A. J. Johnson and Sons, 61.2; No. 2, owned by Don Wolverton, 60.1; Blue, 74.7; Brownie, 62.3; Beauty, 60.5; 7 Up, 61.9; Beth, 60.5, and Texas, 61.4, all owned by Pridmore, and Chubby, 61.4, owned by Freeman.

The November DHIA meeting will be held Monday at the Grant Stevens ranch.

sale by the United States of the bread grain in 1964-65.

Another factor that may hold down U.S. exports is the record world wheat crop of 8.8 billion bushels forecast for 1964-65. This compares with 8.3 billion bushels in 1963-64 and the previous record of 8.6 billion bushels in 1962.

Much of the increased production this year is in Europe, Japan, and the Soviet Union. The increased output in the wheat-deficit countries undoubtedly will lower their import requirements.

The department said that India, the major recipient of large quantities of wheat under the Food for Peace Program, has a smaller crop this year. India's food problems appear to be more acute than ever, the department said.

In a companion review, the department estimated the July 1 carryover of rice in the United States at 53 million bushels, down 1.6 million from a year earlier. Consumption may be down because of decreased exports.

The agency calculated the rice carryover on July 1, 1965, would be in the neighborhood of 5.7 million bushels, the highest since July, 1961, but below the 1957-58 average ending carryover.

Baseball World Mourns Death of Fred Hutchinson

By The Associated Press

Now come the Michigan State Spartans, primed to explode the Notre Dame football bubble. A sellout crowd of around 68,000 is expected to watch the meeting at South Bend, Ind., Saturday in the top collegiate game of the day. It also is the college TV game of the week over NBC. Notre Dame, the country's No. 1-ranked team in the Associated Press poll, is favored to win.

Bunning's Comeback Voted Best in Loop

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Jim Bunning, the first big league pitcher in 42 years to pitch a regular season perfect game, was named the National League's comeback player-of-the-year for 1964 Thursday in the annual Associated Press poll. The 33-year-old Philadelphia right-hander polled 49 votes in a balloting by 83 baseball writers. Vernon Riffe of Pittsburgh was second with seven votes followed by Tony Jackson of the Chicago Cubs.

CINCINNATI Nov. 13—"Come back of the year? Comeback from where? Where have I been?"

As the fourth highest in the Detroit and his 219 strikes in the fifth highest in the league, also had the 10th highest run average, the 11th highest batting average and the 12th highest in his eight years in the majors.

Bunning, a 20-game winner for Detroit in 1957 and a 19-game winner in 1962, was traded to the Phillies on Dec. 5, 1963, for pitcher Steve Carlton and catcher Dick DiGirolamo. He pitched for the Phillies with Jack Hamilton. He pitched the perfect game against the New York Mets last June 21, the first such achievement since Charley Robertson of the Chicago White Sox in 1922.

Law, 34 years old, also made an excellent comeback, winning 14 games in four seasons, including a 23-game winner with the Mount-Vernon Pirates of 1969, and was hampered by a sore arm in his last three seasons. His 1963 record was 4-5 when he worked only 77 innings.

Johnson was 106 players high on the list, putting together a 100-inning mark, including 10 complete games.

These were the questions asked by Jim Dunning, Philadelphia Phillies pitcher, when told he had been selected Tuesday as the National League's comeback player of the year for 1964 in the Associated Press pool.

He had only a 12-13 record with the Detroit Tigers in 1963.

Although he questioned the selection, Dunning admitted he pitched better in 1963 than in 1963.

"Part of his improved record," he said, was due to a "better defense."

"The referring to his 1963 record," Bunning admitted: "I didn't pitch well—I pitched 240 innings and for six weeks pitched as bad as I ever have in my life."

"I don't blame injuries or illness—just bad pitching."

"Asked about the 1965 season Bunning said:

"I'm looking forward to it. Think all of us are. We blew the pennant last year and we don't want to do it again."

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A 20-rod jump shot by Paul Neumann of the Philadelphia Flyers sent the Philadelphia 76ers with a 10-100 victory over the Boston Celtics Thursday night. It was the first time the National Basketball association defeat after 11 straight victories.

Neumann's shot climaxed a play in which the 76ers erased several points off the Celtics' lead. The Flyers had established with a 30 remaining in the third period.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Gino Cappelletti, Boston's double duty end and field goal kicker, came through again for the Patriots with a winning field goal in the second quarter to earn accolades and recognition as the "player of the week in the American Football League."

Cappelletti, one of Duke Parilli's targets on a pass campaign, moved within two points of a fourth straight 100-point performance with a 22-yard field goal over the Houston Oilers.

Cappelletti already had kicked six field goals from the 25, 33 and 22 before a late Houston surge put the Oilers in front.

With one-second to go, Gino potted a game-winning 41-yard

Hunters were also warned not to use the Onacade to Warm Island because of construction.

No Elk

No elk were taken out of the permit to permit hunt in the north-hill area of the state, Alaska Game and Fish and game department publicity director, said Thursday.

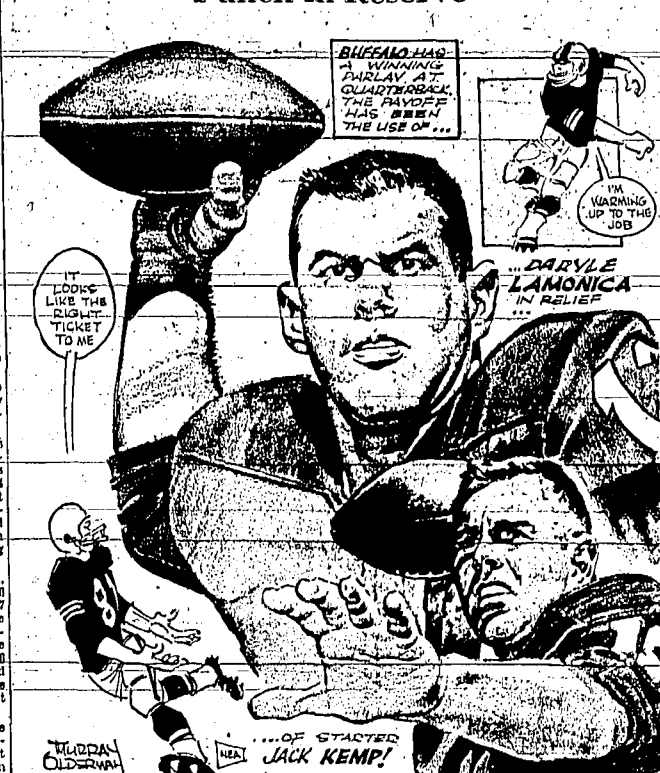

Brown said an earlier department release stating four animals were taken was incorrect. The report, however, reported that hunting from unit 44 (Soldier Mountain) and not unit 54 (North Hills). He added no report cards were received from south-hills permit holders.

Finley Says Frick Didn't Use Power

He Had, Votes "Dictator" Proposal

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Commissioner Ford Frick's indictment of organized baseball and his warning to the major league club owners that they must accept his suggestion with more authority to restore public confidence, drew a defiant reaction Thursday.

The revolt came from Charles O. Finley, maverick owner of the Oakland Athletics, who said next month,

"I am opposed to putting the club owners under a dictatorial administration," and Finley "believes the commissioner has plenty of authority right now, if he'd only exercise it.

"All we need is a commissioner with enough red blood to lead this and be counted on."

Finley said he would not sign a "dictator" proposal that would strip him of his rights and integrity today. The owners are all self-minded and dictators whose main purpose is to make money, he said. They will not make huge profits.

"Because the owners want to lose too much in they're being called greedy, if it weren't for the greedy owner-owners, there would be no baseball today."

"Here is a man pleading for dictatorial powers when all these years he hasn't even been able to enforce the present rules and regulations which he is empowered to do."

to exercise the authority given to him as commissioner of baseball," charged Finley in a long distance telephone interview with the Associated Press.

"Blaming the owners for his failure, Fyck is creating a smoke-screen to cover up his own unwillingness to exercise the powers he has had for 14 years."

Frick, who will retire next September, delivered his ultimatum at the owners' summit meeting in Phoenix, Ariz., last week.

The point Fyck hammered home hardest was that his successor should have the autocratic power given Kennecott chairman Landis, who the Chicago Tribune became the first commissioner soon after the Black Sox scandal. Such authority was stripped from A. B. (Happy) Chandler, Landis' successor, and Frick, the game's third commissioner.

The owners, meeting Fyck's plea, agreed to recommend the restoration of these powers to the new commissioner. A formal vote will be taken at the annual winter meeting in Houston.

"Finley pointed out that the first three seasons after the death of the pro-league agreement spell out the functions of the commissioner.

"They clearly state the commissioner's functions are to investigate, determine and impose penalties. Chandler exercised these powers and got first Frick ousted, except for his powers because he wanted to preserve his job."

Specifically, Fyck asked for the restoration of two clauses which were changed by constitutional amendments after Landis' death.

The first was the elimination of a paragraph denying the owners the right of recourse to the courts. The other was the addition of a clause stating that no act or procedure agreed upon by the owners could be construed to be detrimental to baseball.

"Landis was given these powers for a reason," said Finley. "The game had fallen into disrepute because of the Black Sox scandal and something drastic was needed to restore the honesty and integrity of the game."

SAULT

BRADENTON, Fla., Nov. 13 (AP)—Fred Hutchinson's courageous battle with chest cancer ended in death early Thursday, less than a month after failing health forced him to give up his job as manager of the Cincinnati Reds. The 45-year-old former baseball pitcher ton hospital Oct. 31, with severe chest pains. When his condition improved he was allowed to return to his home on nearby

Anna Maria Island last Saturday. He was returned to the hospital when his condition rapidly deteriorated and was placed on the critical list Tuesday.

Hutchinson was warm, friendly and full of belief in a gruff exterior and a deep growling voice that made some call him "the Bear." A frank and direct individual who believed always in speaking out, Hutchinson never failed to hide his feelings and he was suffering from cancer.

"I've got it," he told reporters last March in Tampa. "I've just got to try to lick it."

TrIBUTES poured in from all corners to the man who had been manager of the year in the National League in 1937 and again in 1940 when his Reds won the pennant.

"All of us in baseball will feel deeply the loss of Fred Hutchinson, both as a baseball figure and as a man," commented Commissioner Ford Frick in New York. "He came into our high school, he came into baseball and brought credit to it at all body" in the expected battle of the Negroes for the major league service, coach Webb Ewbank said despite Rhome's outstanding achievements there still some question of his potential.

Some of the Negroes have American Football League rights to Rhome and the Dallas Cowboys had rights in the National League.

Ewbank said Rhome had shortcomings: "He's under six feet and he's a roll-out type passer."

Ewbank prefers his quarterbacks tall—Dale Wood, the No. 1 quarterback, is 6-foot-5-inch and the rookie reserves, M. Tullafaro and Tom Landrum, are 6-foot, 5-inches and 6-foot, 10-inches, respectively. Ewbank does not like his quarterbacks to run, preferring them to throw themselves away safely in pockets.

"He's a college-type spring passer," said Ewbank after viewing movies of Rhome. "He is not too drunk to pass. I'd like to say from what I've seen that he's a good passer, but he is 15-year range. But I can't say whether he can throw it times, both on and off the field. I am proud that I was his friend."

Renda and Hutchinson's last boss called in part, "Hutch was called the Doc" because of his swivel exterior, but, underneath, he was one of the most soft-hearted fellows I ever knew."

Memorial services will be at 4 p.m. Saturday on Anna Maria Island. Burial will be early next week at Mount Olivet Cemetery in Renton, Wash.

those roles were in there.

"Under no condition will I ever sign such an agreement. If the other owners will give it further consideration, I am sure it won't go through."
